

Bio for Matthew Young

Hi my name is Matthew Young I work for the Door BYC located in the Bronx. I myself am a life-long Bronx resident and have been working in the non- profit social service industry going on almost 9 years now in various position from case planner to preventative worker to now my current role as Juvenile Justice coordinator. I understand the struggles of that non-profit worker has and can go through all to well. I also am a child of union workers. My father is delegate for another well-known union in NYC for well over 25 yrs so i'm well aware of the importance of the title and would be ideal for the position. Thank you and thanks again for the opportunity.
